An arts networking afternoon in Oberon

Arts OutWest is inviting anyone interested in the local arts scene to a Winter Arts Networking Day in at Mayfield Gardens on Sunday 18 September.

The afternoon is a chance for anyone interested in any area of the arts industry to meet likeminded others, share their latest project and meet Arts OutWest staff. It will be the last of a dozen or so events Arts OutWest has held right across the NSW Central West this year.

Arts OutWest are also calling for locals to present short, snappy (six minute) slide shows about their work. Over the past two years these nights have been a showcase for an eclectic mix of stories and ideas from previews of new projects, recaps of recent achievements to artists sharing what inspires them.

“People will share their ideas, experiences or even a rundown of their current projects. It’s a great way to promote what you do and enthuse others about it,” Arts OutWest executive director Tracey Callinan said.

Everyone in the community is invited to come along to hear the local presentations and to network.

“This is also social event for the whole arts and creative community, for anyone interested in arts and culture. A chance to meet, mingle, introduce yourself, make contacts and maybe even kick start future collaborations,” Ms Callinan said.

Entry is free, finger food will be provided.

“This is our last networking night for the year and whilst, yes, technically the 18th of September is spring, the theme of bringing the local arts crowd together will still be the focus of the afternoon,” Ms Callinan said.
